

How can I help repeal ObamaCare?

*The fight to repeal ObamaCare is still going strong!
Find out how you can help.*

In Your Community

Knowledge is power! The Affordable Care Act is 2,000 pages long, and full of complex new mandates and taxes. You can find good sources of information to explain the law and its consequences. But don't stop there! Share information with your friends. Voice your opinion at town hall meetings. Talk to your doctor or others who work in health care and ask for their opinions. Learn to talk about the issues. Write a letter to the editor of your local paper.

In Your State

Find out where your Senators and Representatives in Congress stand on health care policy. Read their Web sites or call their offices to let them know where YOU stand. Find out where your Governor stands, and what he or she plans to do about the upcoming changes. Encourage him or her to push back against the federal government's power grab. Encourage members of your state legislature to do the same.

In Washington, D.C.

Remember that many of the Members of Congress who wrote and passed ObamaCare are still here. So is the President who signed it into law! Attempts to repeal or pushback against this law are going to be very difficult while these same people are still in power. Call or write to the White House, and let the President know how you feel. If nothing else, we can let him know in November 2012, when it's time to express our opinions in the voting booth.

So Ask Your Friends...

- What do you think about the new health care law?
- Do you know how it will affect your health care?
- Do you know how it will raise your taxes?
- Do you know how it will affect your Medicare?
- Do you know that it violates the Constitution?
- Will you help me take action to stop it?
- Have you signed the People's Promise at www.TheRepealPledge.com?

For more information, visit www.savingourhealthcare.org,
a project of Independent Women's Voice.

